VIOLENT AIR BATTLES RAGE OVER SECTIONS OF GERMANY

American Bombers In Giant Attacks On Reich Defenses

Rear of Motors During Early Morning Hours Is Deafening Along British Coast as Planes Thunder Across Channel for 45 Minutes

BRUNSWICK AND HANNOVER ARE TARGETS

BULLETIN
London, April 11—(P)—The RAF dropped more than 4,000 tons of bombs on European targets last night, the greatest load for a single night on record, it was disclosed today.

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
London, April 11—(P)—Nearly 1,000 American bombers, with an equal number of escorting fighters, carried the onslaught against German air defenses through its fourth day today with massive attacks against plane factories at Oschersleben and Bernburg and other objectives deep inside Germany.

The latest daylight blows in a new series of attacks designed to obliterate the Luftwaffe ahead of the Allied invasion followed night assaults by 900 bombers—the greatest force ever dispatched by the RAF against occupied territory—upon five junctions on French and Belgian railroad lines.

The German radio told of terrific air battles over the Reich today. At Oschersleben the Eighth Air Force lost 60 bombers January 11. Both it and Bernburg had been hit February 20 in the Americans' first big series of assaults on the German air force in the air and on the ground.

Berlin radio said the Americans dropped bombs on Central Germany and asserted the raiders suffered heavy casualties in widespread operations over central and eastern Germany. Formations leaving Reich territory were harassed by German fighters, the broadcast said.

The Lancasters and Halifaxes making the night assault were disclosed authoritatively to have comprised the largest British armada ever sent against occupied territory.

The main targets of the RAF night raiders, an air ministry communiqué said, were railway yards at Ghent, Tours, Terguier, Aulnoye and Laon in northern France and Belgium.

Squadrons of Mosquito bombers thrust simultaneously into western Germany to bomb Hanover and objectives in the Ruhr. Mines also were laid in enemy waters during the night operations, from which 22 bombers failed to return, the bulletin said.

It was the second successive night attack on objectives in occupied territory. The RAF's big bombers having blasted railway yards on the outskirts of Paris and at Lille the preceding night.

Approximately 1,500 American planes were estimated to have taken part yesterday in the French interior, during which Marauder medium bombers of the U. S. Ninth Air Force dropped their heaviest load—more than 1,000 tons.

Total losses for the day were five bombers and four fighters. At least 12 Nazi fighters were destroyed in air combats and many more were reported shot up on the ground.

In the latest 60 hours of this attack more than 7,000 tons of bombs are estimated to have been dropped on at least 23 German railroad centers, a raft factories and airfields, headquarters announced a final tabulation of yesterday's (Turn to Page Seven)

RIOT BREAKS OUT IN REHABILITATION CENTER

FT. JACKSON, S. C., April 11—(P)—Four men were wounded, one seriously, when army guards used shotguns to break up a riot among prisoners in the rehabilitation center here last weekend, the post public relations office disclosed today.

The brief announcement said the rioters hurled coal, damaged property and massed against a guard tower before the guards opened fire.

Ministers Plan Home Front "Day of Prayer" on Invasion

Conforming with a suggestion made in these columns a few days ago that preparations for the coming invasion of Europe include plans for a home front "Day of Prayer," the Warren County Ministerial Association took steps at its Monday meeting for carrying out such a project.

The program committee was instructed by the association to arrange a union service of all churches in Warren for the purpose of remembering in prayer all the invasion units. It was suggested, also, that each community outside of Warren, or individual churches, arrange a similar service prior to the invasion and, if possible, that all of these should be held simultaneously.

In addition, members of the association will arrange that all churches be ready when "Invasion Day" comes to summon their people with church bells for at least an hour of prayer. Stores, offices, shops and other business establishments will be asked to observe at least a few minutes of quiet meditation and prayer for those in the invasion forces.

Members attending yesterday's meeting were treated to a fine address on "Maps of the World" by John G. Rossman, superintendent of schools.

ALLIED SUPPLY LINE IN BURMA UNDER SIEGE

Jap Drive Into India Is Unabated As Enemy Gives Up More Than Half of New Britain

IMPHAL HOLDING OUT

New Delhi, April 11—(P)—A second determined attempt by the Japanese to take Kohima, northeast Indian strong point appeared in the making today as the Southeast Asia command announced the enemy continued to press in on that area and sharp patrol actions inflicted casualties on the Japanese on the near approach to Imphal, main Allied base.

By RICHARD C. BERGHOLZ
Associated Press War Editor

The Japanese threat against the Allied supply line into China and northern Burma was unabated today, but the enemy has given up more than half of New Britain in the southwest Pacific and is preparing for a last-ditch fight around the bomb-battered citadel of Rabaul.

Allied headquarters communicated the Japanese have withdrawn from Gasmata and Cape Hoskins in Central New Britain and that U. S. troops now control more than half the jungle-covered island.

But there was no let-up in Japan's drive into India. Adm. Lord Louis Mountbatten's Allied command reported enemy "pressure was maintained against a defended locality in the Kohima area" 35 miles from the rickety, but all-important, Begal-Assam railroad which the Allies use to supply Lt. Gen. Stilwell's forces in northern Burma and to feed Allied air-dromes in China.

The navy announced that Japanese troops 60 airline miles to the south, fought off Japanese attempts to gain control of the Imphal plain and managed to ambush small enemy forces southeast of Imphal.

Isolated Japanese Rabaul rocked under an 80-ton assault in the latest reported bombing raid.

Other airmen ranged from Boere Island, northwest of Australia, to Wake Island, in the western Caroline Islands, hitting such New Guinea targets as Wewak, with 128 tons of bombs; Hansa Bay, 131 tons, and Aitape, 69 tons.

Central Pacific bases sent up planes that raked Ponape and Oro-luk in the eastern Carolines and four enemy-held atolls in the Marshall Islands.

WAVE OFFICER HURT IN SNOW AVALANCHE

Berthoud Pass, Colo., April 11—(P)—Marooned high in the Rockies by a snow-swamping avalanche and heavy snows, 32 persons including three babies waited today for rescue and word concerning a severely injured WAVE officer who was taken down the mountainside in an army snow buggy.

While huge snowplows chewed their way up the east and west slopes of this 11,314-foot pass, snipers applied their Arctic training yesterday in carrying supplies to the summit.

The marooned party took shelter in the summit lodge Sunday night after a rumbling snowslide swept three automobiles off the road and stalled others.

BETTER BE ALERT!
Harrisburg, April 11—(P)—Civilian Defense units are on the alert for a blackout practice drill which Dr. Ralph Cooper Hutchison, executive director of the State Defense Council, said yesterday may come anytime this month except Sunday under revised army regulations.

Numerous Inquiries Awaiting Congress

Washington, April 11—(P)—Legislation may give way largely to investigating when congress convenes tomorrow for a session leading up to the national political conventions.

With committees of both houses charting explorations into nearly every phase of the war and post war picture on the home front and abroad, final disposition appeared likely for little more than a half dozen major measures.

Legislative interest was concentrated on three principal bills to be sandwiched in between appropriation measures for government departments.

Top on the calendar is legislation prolonging the wartime price control and economic stabilization program to prevent its expiration June 30.

Behind-the-scenes, a fight was shaping up over the question of bringing up the anti-poll tax issue again.

Blind Hero Has Recipe For "Soft Peace" Talk

Philadelphia, April 11—(P)—A blind marine hero with 200 dead Japs on Guadalcanal to his credit knows how he could prevent talk of a "soft peace."

"I'd like to take some thousands of Americans and show them the battlefields overseas," Marine Sgt. Al Schmid said yesterday at an authors' luncheon here. "I'd like them to see their relatives and friends wounded, maimed, blinded."

"I think a lot of people here are too softhearted," he added. "I know what I'd do to any Japs I got my two hands on."

President Of Mexico Fails An Assassin

By LARRY F. STUNTZ

Mexico City, April 11—(P)—President Manuel Avila Camacho barely escaped assassination yesterday by a young Mexican army lieutenant who later made a break for freedom and was himself seriously wounded.

A bullet fired at point-blank range pierced Avila Camacho's coat, but the husky president helped overpower his assailant, identified as Lt. Jose Antonio de la Lama Rojas, 31. An official bulletin said "several documents from Nazi sources" were found upon him, but there was no amplification.

Lama Rojas attacked two guards taking him from the national palace to army barracks, and fled through a suburban street before he was felled by a bullet below his chest, Gen. Francisco Urquiza, undersecretary of national defense, announced.

President Avila Camacho, who took Mexico into war on the side of the Allies, told reporters this "isolated incident" did not represent "a division of the Mexican family." He appealed for calmness, declaring, "Let us go forward to make stronger the union of the Mexican family."

He still wore his bullet-torn coat when he received reporters.

BULLETINS

Heanor, Derbyshire, England, April 11—(P)—The lusty trio of survivors from the quads born to Norah Rose Carpenter and Staff Sgt. William Thompson, Jr., of Pittsburgh, Pa., "are thriving and doing even better than expected."

Washington, April 11—(P)—Secretary of the Navy Knox said today he would seek a legal ruling on the postponement of the trials of Maj. Gen. William C. Short and Vice Admiral Husband E. Kimmel, charged with dereliction of duty in connection with the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor December 7, 1941.

Baltimore, April 11—(P)—A spectacular six-alarm fire which sent flames shooting 75 to 100 feet into the air destroyed a block-long super-market at Franklin street and Franklinton road today with a loss estimated at $250,000 by vice president of Food Fair, Inc.

Harrisburg, April 11—(P)—Greater deferment of key trucking employees was urged today by the Pennsylvania Motor Truck (Turn to Page Seven)

Evening Hours at WMC to Enroll Women for Sylvania

Need of women for the local plant of the Sylvania Electric Products, Inc., is being accentuated at the present time, as the company is in need of 500 women for the Warren plant. The work on which the women will be engaged is light, the employment conditions are excellent and hard to match in this section of the state.

Manager David Levine of the War Manpower Commission stated this morning that all attention now is being given to the appeal of the Sylvania Company and to end that the needed women may be promptly recruited the office of the Manpower Commission will be open evenings. The evening hours will be from 7 until 9 and the office will be open tonight, Wednesday and Thursday nights. Women are urged to register at once.

It has also been stated that should women of Sugar Grove, Chanders Valley, Youngsville, Sheffield and other sections of the county care to enroll for places at the Sylvania plant, their applications will be gratefully received. Transportation to and from Warren will be arranged if there are sufficient women enrolled from these outlying places. Manager Levine is arranging to spend some time in these towns and contact the women. It will offer an opportunity for girls and women in these places to find congenial work under splendid conditions, and watch should be kept for announcement of the visit of Mr. Levine.

All women are eligible if they are possessed of good eyesight and nimble fingers, as these are the main requirements. The work is of a nature that girls and women with these qualifications can find ready employment and make good money.

No time should be lost in enrolling, as the work is essential to the war effort, and the women who take places with the Sylvania Company will be backing up their husbands, sons and sweethearts who are at the front fighting.

KEY LIST FOR DEFERMENTS IS ANNOUNCED

Selective Service Director Cites Critical Activities For Guidance of State Officials

STUDENTS ARE INCLUDED

Washington, April 11—(P)—Selective Service headquarters today put out the official list of critical activities which will rate draft-deferments for registrants under 26 years of age.

The list, issued by Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey to state draft directors, covers a considerable catalog of work which the government agencies consider vital to winning the war.

In Harrisburg, Selective Service headquarters said Col. Richard K. Mellon, state director, would await receipt of official orders before commenting on the future status of coal miners in Pennsylvania.

And the listing boils down to this:

If you are a physically-fit non-farming selective service registrant under 26, and your work is not included in the official list, you can expect a quick call to the induction station. If your work is on the list and your employer considers you a key man, he can apply for your deferment from the draft, and get it.

The list did not include coal mining but it was announced that state directors in certain coal-producing areas are being given special authorization to defer individual registrants whose induction would result in "serious curtailment in coal production."

Pre-professional students will be deferred only if they can enter a recognized school of medicine, dentistry, veterinary medicine, osteopathy or theology before July 1.

Students in those professional schools, internships (provided the total period of internship shall not exceed nine months) and undergraduates in certain listed engineering and scientific courses who will graduate before July 1 also will get deferments.

Hershey said the government agencies listed had designated representatives to furnish information and advice to state directors and some of the agencies have prescribed procedures for endorsement of the applications of affected employees.

Washington, April 11—(P)—A conflict apparently was developing within the house military affairs committee today over whether Selective Service legislation should be revised to provide for the draft of 4-F's who are not now in war work.

Chairman May (D-Ky) complains that the draft administration and the manpower commission "ignore what we do and do what they want to," and he expressed belief there would be no changes in the present law.

On the other hand, Rep. Costello (D-Calif), chairman of a military subcommittee which has been considering possible legislation to bring 4-F's either into essential occupations or military service, says his group will continue its studies.

Hershey's list was substantially the list approved by the committee of manpower claimants, an inter-agency group headed by Paul V. McNutt which met again today to start the task of designating specific plants within the activities (Turn to Page Seven)

Ukrainian Army Storms Into Crimea From Two Directions

The capture of Odessa, last major Black Sea port open to the Nazis, and swift Red drive toward Iasi threaten Nazi armies fleeing to the south and southwest. Odessa's seizure climaxed 900-mile running battle between Gen. Rodion Malinovsky and Marshal Fritz von Manstein, and Malinovsky had pleasure of re-occupying home town.

Policy Governing Men Over 26 Outlined In Orders Received

Harrisburg, April 11—(P)—Most draft registrants under 26 who now hold occupational deferments today faced prompt reclassification into 1-A as the commonwealth's 422 local boards began carrying out imperative orders from state Selective Service headquarters. Farm workers of the same age are also expected to lose their deferred status unless local boards find they are regularly employed in essential agriculture, are necessary men and cannot be replaced.

Draft boards during the past few days have been suffering many headaches, due to the orders and reclassification of men which have been coming through. At Board No. 2 the girls in the office worked until 9 o'clock last night in an effort to get their list straightened out. It is thought that it is now complete and all men who have not received a letter stating their pre-induction examination or induction must report on the dates as notified, despite any rumors that are going around.

This morning the following was received by Draft Boards Nos. 1 and 2 from Colonel Richard K. Mellon, state director of Selective Service:

"The following policies will govern the volunteering of registrants 26 years or over, who may be making a contribution to essential agricultural, war production or war supporting activities, so long as they may be accepted as volunteers."

"1. Such registrants, who have been ordered to report for induction, may volunteer by executing DSS Form 165 and will be inducted on the date ordered to report for induction."

"2. Such registrants, who have been certified as available for service in Army or Navy, but not yet ordered for induction, may also volunteer by executing DSS Form 165 and may be called with Local Board's next induction call."

"3. Such registrants, who have not been physically examined, may volunteer by executing DSS Form 165. If already ordered for pre-induction physical examination, they may be forwarded to examination station on date ordered. If not already ordered to report for pre-induction physical examination, they may be ordered to report for next pre-induction call of the board. In either event, if such registrants desire immediate induction after physical examination they may execute DSS Form 219, Request for Immediate Induction, requesting immediate induction."

Tornadoes and Floods Leave Trail of Death

By the Associated Press
A series of tornadoes killed 30 persons in Arkansas last night. Other tornadoes in Oklahoma and Texas killed one person each. Violent spring storms and floods left a trail of property damage in other parts of the southwest.

The Arkansas tornadoes killed five persons at Woodson, Pulaski county; five near Stuttgart; two at Pine Bluff; one at Harrison; two near Marianna; two near Brinkley; one at Monroe; one at Duncan, and ten negroes at Duncan and Parkin.

At least 140 persons were injured in Arkansas. Rising flood waters and continuing heavy rainfall warned worse overflows to come in eastern Kansas and Oklahoma.

Scattered tornadoes hit Kansas, Oklahoma and Arkansas. Mrs. Marion Ward was killed at Harrison, Ark., and two of her children and 18 others injured. Another tornado destroyed 14 (Turn to Page Seven)

Tot Survives Night Spent in Mountains

Lewistown, April 11—(P)—Four-year-old Donald Curry, of Chambersburg, was in a Lewistown hospital today with only a cold and scratches on his arms and hands as the result of 24 hours he was lost in the tangled underbrush of Seven Mountains.

The child, who wandered away from a cabin between Sand and Broad Mountains Sunday afternoon, was found late yesterday by two high school boys as they rode along an old logging road over Sand Mountain on their way to rejoin the search for Donald.

Woodsmen estimated Donald had traveled seven miles over the crest of Sand Mountain through brush and over rocks before he was found. He told his rescuers he had walked all night.

REDS LASH AT NAZIS FLEEING FROM ODESSA

Third Army Smashes to Within Six Miles of Ovidopol, Escape Bottleneck For German Forces

100,000 ARE ISOLATED

BULLETIN
London, April 11—(P)—Marshal Stalin announced tonight the capture of Dzhankoi, railway junction 15 miles into the Crimea from its northeastern entry.

Moscow, April 11—(AP)—Russia's Fourth Ukrainian Army stormed down into the Crimea from two directions today in a drive aimed at clearing south Russia of the Axis invaders as Gen. Rodion Y. Malinovsky's Third Army smashed to within six miles of Ovidopol, escape bottleneck through which the remnants of the Nazis' Odessa garrison were fleeing toward Romania.

The Fourth Army, under the command of Gen. Feodor I. Tolbukhin, was attacking in the Crimea along a 75-mile front from the Perekop Isthmus at the northwestern corner of the peninsula to Sivash Bay on the northeast, field dispatches said.

In two days, a Russian communiqué declared, Tolbukhin's forces advanced more than 12 miles through strong German defenses to kill 5,500 enemy troops and capture another 1,000. About 11 German divisions (perhaps 100,000 men) were believed isolated in the Crimea.

To the northwest another Red army simultaneously crossed the Siret and Suceava rivers in Romania, the war bulletin announced, and reached a point less than five miles from the rail junction of Iasi.

Deepest penetration reported on this sector was at Solca, 19 miles northwest of Suceava and 35 miles from Transylvania. Konev's right wing was striking westward along the Darnesteni-Budapest railway toward the Carpathian mountains and captured Radauti, one of the largest cities in Bucovina.

With Iasi half-encircled, Konev's left wing was reported wheeling southward toward the Danube, taking Targu-Frutos, 27 miles west of Iasi and 16 miles from Pacsani; Vultur, four miles northwest of Iasi and Goesti, 20 miles west of Iasi.

There was no mention in the Russian communiqué of the progress of Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's first Ukrainian army, which reached the Czechoslovakian frontier Saturday.

GANGSTER BELIEVED SLAIN BY RACKETEERS

Clayton, N. J., April 11—(P)—New Jersey state police today began an investigation into the death of Harry Fassen, alias Andy Harris, 38-year-old Philadelphia with an extensive police record, whose bullet-riddled body was found in the woods beside a road five miles north of Williamstown.

The body, discovered yesterday by Elmer Vandergrift, a Camden truck driver, was wrapped in a green coat and tan blanket and was bound with adhesive tape and clothes line.

Fire Sweeps Four Lock Haven Stores

Lock Haven, April 11—(P)—Fire swept through four store and apartment buildings in the Lock Haven business district today, calling out all available fire fighting equipment in Lock Haven and nearby towns.

Stores occupying the first floor of the buildings were the J. J. Newberry notion store, Bortoff Brothers' shoe store, The Hub, a men's store, and the Smart Shop, a women's store.

All the buildings were four stories of brick construction. Fire officials believe that all occupants of the apartments escaped.

Joining the Lock Haven fire department in fighting the blaze were companies from Flemington, Mill Hall and Howard.

Chesterfield Campaign Starts Soon

A novel, double-barrelled campaign for Chesterfield Cigarettes starts in Times-Mirror April 12. It is based on running two different groups of advertisements simultaneously. The advertisements will run in morning and evening newspapers from coast to coast.

The first group stresses the quality of the Chesterfield tobacco. It features a large-size picture of an actual tobacco farmer and carries his signed statement about the kind of tobacco Chesterfield buys from him.

The second group pictures situations, under the general heading of "Things that mean a lot these days" and mostly involving men in the Service in which a cigarette plays a friendly part.

For example one of the ads in this second group brings home the idea that Service men should have first-call on the use of the telephone with a caption reading "You first, Soldier. . . I'll have a Chesterfield while you talk."

Another ad in this series carries the caption "Brought home guests for dinner, Ma. . ." and shows a group of Service men arriving for a home-cooked dinner.

The copy in the first, or farmers-statement group, says "Nature and Science unite in making Chesterfields a better cigarette. Nature, with the farmers' help, grows the world's best tobacco. Science then takes a hand and blends them together in Chesterfield's Right Combination."

Both series are tied into a unit by the use of Chesterfield's "Five Key-words to more smoking pleasure—Right Combination—World's Best Tobacco."

The Liggett and Myers Tobacco Company, the makers of Chesterfield, feel that the use of this double-header campaign will go a long way to establish the quality of the tobacco in Chesterfield and at the same time to illustrate in how many ways the folks at home can show their appreciation of the men and women in the Service by acts of friendliness and courtesy. Chesterfield's two radio programs—Fred Waring's Pleasure Time, featuring Victory Tunes chosen by the men of the armed forces and John Nesbitt's Passing Parade, a new program featuring the star storyteller of all times, John Nesbitt—will supplement the newspaper campaign.

Appreciation Expressed By Youth Council

The Warren Christian Youth Council wishes to express its appreciation to all those who co-operated in making its Easter sunrise service a success. The First Baptist church permitted the use of its sanctuary for the service and the First Methodist church, that of Founders' Hall for the breakfast, prepared by the Luther League of the First Lutheran church.

Over 350 attended the impressive service at 8:30. The beautiful Easter drama, "Resurrection," was presented a little after daybreak and made a deep impression on those assembled for early worship. Georgia Spiney, Grace Young, Gloria Hausman, Nick Geracimos, John Erickson, and Edward Peterson all gave excellent performances in the roles they portrayed. The drama was presented under the direction of Olive Archibald Huff, who was assisted in the costuming by Mrs. George Spiney and in the staging by F. H. Hetrick. Effective background music was furnished by eight members of the High School Choir.

Lillian Ristau, Marcia Johnson, Carolyn Huber, Nancy Schwartz, Hugh Jamieson, Edward Bell, Rowell Hoff and Charles Cochran, Lillian Ristau also sang an offertory solo, "The Holy City."

"Coming Into Our Own," the talk by Harry Conroy, affected everyone with the young speaker's deep sincerity and spiritual insight. It not only struck the inspirational note in an unusual manner but was practical and real in its message. Hugh Jamieson, treasurer of the council, presided over the service, because the council's president, Robert Wilder, was out of town. Janet Cannon assisted in the service and Evelyn Wolstencroft was at the organ.

Sugar Grove, April 8—The annual congregational meeting of the Presbyterian church, was held in the church parlors, Thursday evening. A tureen supper was served at seven o'clock, followed by a devotional service conducted by Rev. Carl Perrin, with Mrs. Waulter Maude, acting as pianist for the group singing. Annual reports of all organizations of the church were given and thanks expressed to members who have worked so faithfully to make the past year work so successful.

Rev. Perrin reported sixty-seven Easter letters sent to service men the past week. The group voted to have a family supper the first Thursday of each month to which members will bring the penny banks with offering for the paint and repair fund. Allan Frank and Frank Miller were re-elected as elders and Kenneth Frank and A. J. Phillips as trustees.

Mrs. Conrad Youngberg entertained at two tables of bridge Friday evening in honor of Mrs. Harriett Northrop who has a birthday on Sunday. Mrs. Ray Seamans of Greensburg, Pa., was an out of town guest. A gift was presented to Mrs. Northrop from those present.

Remodeling Of Sal. Army Building Plan

For some time past Capt. Brandenburg, of the Salvation Army has had plans under discussion relative to the remodeling of the building occupied by the Salvation Army here. It is planned to so arrange the building that the work both religious and social can be carried on to better advantage and the work among young people enlarged.

To that end Major Thomas Dickinson, of New York City, head of the Salvation Army Property Department and Brig. Ralph Miller, Divisional Commander of Western Pennsylvania spent some time in Warren this week. While here they inspected the local building and discussed with Capt. Brandenburg the plans he has made to utilize the added room.

Under plans of Captain Brandenburg the entire lower floor of the building will be converted into an auditorium with offices for the Captain. A glass brick front will be installed allowing plenty of light without the disturbing influence of large glass windows. On the second floor a youth center will be installed where the young people's work can be carried on with many activities.

While in Warren Major Dickinson called Ludwig Peterson into consultation and Mr. Peterson will make blue prints showing the proposed changes and these will be forwarded to New York. When approved and returned the work will be undertaken.

T. B. Suspects Given X-Ray Tests Today

Beaty and high school students who showed "positive" in the Patch tests given recently in borough schools, about 30 to 40 in number, are being x-rayed at the city building today in conjunction with the Warren County Tuberculosis Society's "early diagnosis" campaign.

Officials were a bit disappointed yesterday when only 108 persons turned out at the city hall for x-rays. However, that number was expected to be substantially raised today.

A change in schedule will take the Powers technicians and equipment to Sheffield at noon tomorrow, where between 150 and 175 persons have been lined up for the bottling works, O'Connor shop and the school system. The equipment will be set up in the school, as on the previous visit to that community, and no appointments are necessary.

Anyone interested in chest x-rays, particularly those who have suffered hard colds or flu this winter, are advised to visit the city building before noon tomorrow if they wish to take advantage of this opportunity.

Personal Paragraphs

Ray Loney, of Warren RD. 3, who is employed by the G. G. Greene Manufacturing Corporation, had the misfortune to cut his left hand Monday when a scraper slipped while he was using it. He was given emergency treatment at Warren General Hospital.

General improvement was reported today in the condition of Walter Cox, who has been confined to the Kane Summit Hospital since falling from the bay window of his barn at The King's Farm, Ludlow, last Wednesday, sustaining a painful back injury. Complete extent of his injuries has not been reported, but one physician stated that "clinically, he is showing improvement."

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Lynde, of Buffalo, are guests of Mrs. Lynde's brother, H. B. Hazeltine, 717 Fourth avenue.

Mrs. J. L. Connelly, Palm avenue, is leaving tomorrow for Norfolk, Va., where she will join her husband, Lt. Connelly.

Joan Jacobson, Glenwood street, and Doris Anderson, of Pennsylvania avenue, west left this morning to visit in Trenton, N. J., en route to New York City, where they will have employment.

Among out of town relatives and friends here to attend the funeral of Mrs. H. A. Hansen, 8 Grant street, were Mrs. Tillie Jorgensen, of Brookston, and Mrs. Helen Berringer, of Erie.

Richard Carlstrom, of Akeley, has been admitted to Warren General Hospital for further treatment of deep lacerations on the thumb and first finger of his left hand, received yesterday when he caught the member in a circular saw with which he was cutting wood.

Roger Burrows, of Youngsville, twisted his left knee while at the Youngsville Skating Rink and has been brought to the Warren General Hospital for x-rays to determine a possible fracture.

Charles Collier, of Corry, who with James Scully, of that place, was injured when their car went into a ditch at Pittsfield early Sunday morning, has been discharged from Warren General Hospital, where both were taken for treatment and observation. Scully is still a patient in the institution.

Our famous Sperry gunsight calculates the amount of "lead" on a target, the effect of gravity and the wind, points the guns, and tells the gunner the precise moment to open fire.

Program Director

Ralph McCallister, director of the Adult Education Council of the Chicago Recreation Commission, and identified with educational fields for many years, has been appointed program director for Chautauqua Institution during the season of 1944. Born in 1905, married and the father of two children, he was educated at the Universities of Chicago and Michigan.

In addition to his directorship of the Chicago council, he is a member of the executive committee of the American Association for Adult Education, a member of the Chicago Recreation Commission, the Mayor's Committee on Race Relations and numerous other educational groups. The council of adult education has gained national recognition under his leadership.

How Lend-Lease Aided Red Army's Great Drive

In addition to materials indicated here, Russia has received 1,450,000 tons of steel and hundreds of thousands of tons of aluminum, nickel, copper, brass and zinc; vast shipments of munitions and other supplies, 2,600,000 tons of American food and almost 13,000 tons of seed to replant the devastated Ukraine. To Red navy went relatively smaller amounts of equipment, largely marine engines, mine sweepers and sub-chasers. Lend-Lease shipments to Russia from Oct. 1941 to March 1, 1944, totalled 9,500,000 tons.

Sixty Attend Supper Meet Of Foremen

A thought-provoking address by Rev. S. R. Schieb and installation of officers marked the last supper meeting of the season for the Warren Foremen's Club held last evening in the Y. M. C. A. building, with an attendance of sixty members.

Rev. Schieb's topic was "The Church and Labor, and the March of Time." The speaker in a very interesting fashion pointed out the great contribution of the church and church law to the cause of the working man down through the ages, and the contribution the Christian church is now making to the preparation for a just and lasting peace.

"It is the church that has had the courage to check both labor and capital. There have been times when the church was the only defender man in dire need had," Rev. Schieb declared. In concluding his address, he predicted that when the war is over Labor will face certain alternatives and he urged that in making their choice they should hold to respect for God and fellowman.

A musical treat—three vocal selections by Miss Connie Dey, soprano—was very much enjoyed by the Foremen. The meeting was opened by Ray Ledebur, retiring president, who presided until after the installation. Ralph H. Wagner, Executive Secretary of the Club, was in charge of the installation ceremony, in which the badges of office were transferred and the officers and members charged with their responsibilities for the coming year.

Following the installation, the new President, Fred A. Keller, presided, after appropriate remarks in which he pledged his administration to work for the advancement of the club's and members' interests. The new vice-president is C. Ray Lewis; Secretary, Rexford E. White, and treasurer, Emil Johnson.

Ladies of Rev. Schieb's church, the Salem Evangelical, served the meal.

Father Moore Is Sent To Grampian

Erie, April 11.—(P)—The Most Rev. John Mark Gannon of the Erie Catholic Diocese has announced the appointment of the Rev. James V. Moriarty of St. Bonaventure Grampian, to the rectorship of St. Gabriel the Archangel's parish, Port Allegany, and its mission church in Roulette, vacated two weeks ago by the sudden death of the Rev. Michael Fitzgerald, pastor.

Along with Father Moriarty's appointment Bishop Gannon announced the name of the Rev. William J. Moore to the rectorship of St. Bonaventure's parish to replace the Rev. Moriarty, who served as pastor 12 years. Father Moore returns to active duty after a year's leave of absence because of ill health, which prompted his resignation in January, 1943, from the rectorship of St. Joseph's parish in Warren.

Father Moore was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., and received his higher education in St. Francis' College, Brooklyn, and St. Bonaventure's seminary, St. Bonaventure, N. Y. He was ordained by Bishop Gannon on November 1, 1922. In serving the Erie diocese previous to his Warren appointment he held the following posts, assistant pastor St. Andrew's Church, Erie; assistant, St. Joseph's church, Warren; assistant, St. Leo's church, Ridgway; assistant, St. Joseph's church, Sharon; pastor, St. Joseph's church, Mt. Jewett, 1929 to 1934; pastor, St. Walburga's church, Titusville, 1934 to 1941; pastor of St. Joseph's, Warren, from November 11, 1941, to January, 1943, when he resigned because of ill health.

Before the war it required the equivalent of one year's labor for 100 workers to build one Liberator bomber, while today that number has been reduced to seven.

Wallet Was Returned To Soldier Loser

Back in the days when all school kids had copy books and when they wrote time after time "Honesty is the best policy," some bird here in town must have been playing hooky the day that exercise was on. And just because he missed that Spencerian practice exercise and failed to have it impressed on his mind he got a heck of a red face yesterday.

A soldier of Uncle Sam's Legions home on a furlough had the misfortune to drop his wallet on the pavement in town and the wallet in addition to papers, furlough papers, too, and sundry other articles of bric a brac there reposed $25 in folding money. Soon afterwards this fellow who had missed the exercise on "honesty" came riding by. His eyesight was good and he stopped and annexed the wallet.

Did he turn it in to the police? Not he. When sleuths of the police department ran him down after much hard work the fellow turned over the wallet but the coin of the realm was missing. Search of his car finally brought forth the money and it was returned to the owner who was so much relieved that no action is being taken against the finder who with a red face and much chagrin left the station house.

Reports are that another service man lost his wallet and evidently it has not been returned to the police. The boys of the department had plenty of work to do last night and from all indications they did their bit with eclat and much speed as everything brought to their attention was cleared up in good shape.

Jason Marsh Celebrates 91st Birthday

Corydon, April 10.—Wednesday April 5th marked the 91st birthday anniversary of one of Corydon's best known and oldest residents, Jason P. Marsh—and during the afternoon and evening hours a great many friends called at his home to greet him and offer congratulations on the memorial occasion.

Mr. Marsh was the recipient of numerous gifts—receiving also 95 birthday greeting cards. Serving as hostess for the very pleasant affair was his daughter, Miss Theresa Marsh assisted by Mrs. Crawford Marsh. Ice cream and cake, a refreshment feature, was most attractively presented to all those attending.

Again Sunday Mr. Marsh was honored guest at a family dinner party that included three of his grandchildren and his three great grandchildren. Present from away were Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Marsh, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Marsh and three children, Keith, Anne and Carolyn Marsh, of Farmers

Housing Project to Provide Every Comfort at Reynolds

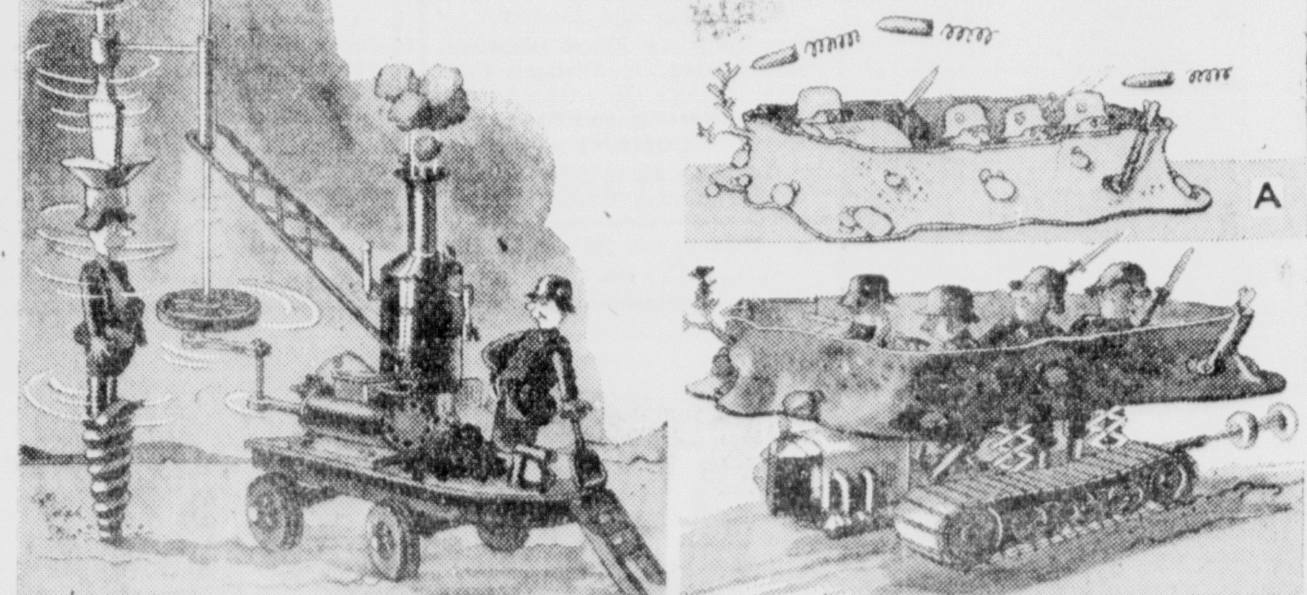

In charge of recruiting here this week of civilian workers for vital war tasks at Camp Reynolds, near Greenville, Lt. James Walker reports that with 27 families already settled in the housing project opposite the camp, every possible convenience is being planned toward creating a regular little village for the civilian employees. Located where it will be easily accessible to all residents, a commissary is being built, which will carry a complete line of meats and groceries. Next to the commissary will be the community house, where game rooms, social rooms, cafeteria, lounge and play rooms, will be used exclusively by the residents.

John Knutson, resident engineer, states that as soon as weather permits, landscaping of the grounds will begin. Plans have been made for a large out-door play ground for the children. All apartments are furnished throughout with modern modern furnishings of red maple and birch. Each apartment complete with stove, bed, mattress, springs, dressers, tables, chairs, shower, ice box and lavatory. The dormitories have large shower and lavatory rooms, laundry rooms, small kitchen and dining room and lounge. All dormitories are centrally heated. In addition to all of the facilities to be located on the project, the privilege of trading at the post exchanges and attending the camp theatres have been extended to all project residents.

Press Adopts Uniform Style of Names in War

New York, April 10.—(P)—A uniform style for foreign place names has been adopted by the three American news services to make it easier for the public to follow the story of the war.

In an effort to end possible confusion over places appearing in the war news under more than one name, the Associated Press, the United Press and International News Service adopted in general the style of the National Geographic Society, but made certain exceptions to conform with American usage.

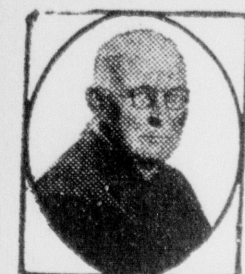

The National Geographic Society style basically followed is

ABC OF THE DRAFT

James Marlow and George Zielke, two Associated Press correspondents in Washington, sum up the complicated Selective Service situation in the following manner:

Draft-age men up to 28—now that Selective Service (SS) has ordered the draft of all men possible under 26—can well ask themselves: but how does this affect me?

The order will have to be carried out in different ways because the various draft boards have different problems and only this much can be answered simply: There is to be a clean sweep of men 18 through 25, except those deferred for super-essentiality.

Does this mean that no men over 26 will be drafted until all those under 26 are drafted? No.

Men 26 to 38, not in war jobs or war-related jobs or jobs considered necessary in their community, will be drafted right along with the 18-26 group without any delay.

But SS has ordered that the 26-38 men, whose jobs the boards consider essential, are not to be inducted until the 18-26 group is taken. The reason: the Army and Navy want the 18-25 men most and want them first.

And even the decision on who is essential will vary from board to board.

There is also this problem: board AAA has 500 men under 26, board BBB has only three men under 26. What happens?

Board AAA delays drafting men over 26—except those non-essentially employed—and concentrates on the men under 26 until it has taken them all.

Board BBB takes the three men under 26 and goes right on trying to fill its quota with the older men.

But what about the over-26 men who were found acceptable for service and were ordered to report for induction this week? Must they report?

Yes, unless they have been personally notified by their boards not to report. If they have any doubts about this, they had better go to their local board for advice.

Their induction was meant to be postponed. SS said so. But some boards are going right ahead, permitting them to be inducted, at least for the remainder of this week. Some boards have stopped such inductions.

Does all this mean that some boards will forget about quotas altogether—so far as the 18-26 group is concerned—and just make a clean up of all the men they have in that group even when this means going beyond the usual quota for that board?

SS says yes but points out that comparatively few boards will be able to exceed their usual quotas in a draft of the 18-26 group because so few have that many young men left.

How long will induction over 26-38 men be postponed generally?

No accurate estimate is possible. For some, there may be no delay. For others, where boards have many in the 18-26 group, the delay may be up to 90 days.

EVACUATION OF ODESSA

The great Russian port of Odessa on the Black Sea is in the hands of the Russians, two and one-half years after it was occupied by Germans following a siege of eight weeks. Early dispatches from Berlin stated that the city had been evacuated by Nazis, but an order of the day issued by Marshal Joseph Stalin announced the capture of the important base.

Capture of Odessa represents a far-reaching victory for the Moscovites, and its meaning is this:

Odessa has been the main port of supplies for the Axis forces in the Crimean peninsula which not only has guarded the Nazi right flank in Russia but the coasts of Rumania and Bulgaria as well. Loss of Odessa means that the Crimea, one of Hitler's key positions in the eastern theatre, cannot long hold out. At present it is held by about a dozen divisions—probably less than 100,000 men—half Germans and half Romanians.

Once this famous Crimean battle-ground of the centuries is again in Russian hands, the field of operations for the Red war machine will be greatly widened. Soviet warships can return to the port of Sevastopol, and the Red command will be in a position to send an amphibious expedition against the Romanian coast to outflank the Hitlerites, if that seems desirable.

Poor Eliza Leads a Hectic Existence

Washington in Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—The old chain letter racket is with us again, only this time draped in the American flag and going under the guise of a "government approved" scheme to promote the sale of war stamps.

Within the last few days here, I have received two such letters. Neither carried the old chain letter cautions of dire consequences and bad luck forevermore if one should be so foolish as to break the chain. Both made appeals to patriotism. Washington workers have told me of the letters. Post-office officials admit the thing is mushrooming all over the country.

The last letter I received carried three paragraphs that are interesting:

"Buy a 25-cent war stamp and mail it to the name at the top of the list.

"This chain is approved by the postal authorities as it promotes the sale of war bonds.

"Approximately $781.25 in war stamps will come to you if this chain is not broken."

THERE'S also a sort of P.S., which says "If you don't wish to continue this, please be patriotic and return it in five days."

Part of the first paragraph is all right. "Buy a 25-cent war stamp"—but stick it in your book and don't send it to anybody.

The second paragraph is so far wrong that Post Office officials not only don't approve but they have two statutes under which they can prosecute the chain letter writer—it's a violation of the postal fraud law and the postal lottery law.

The third paragraph is a Ponzi pipe dream. Kill all the pages you wish with arithmetical progressions and you'll still have to come back to the old copybook maxim that no one ever gets a lot of something for nothing much.

The fourth paragraph, the P.S. appeal to patriotism, is just a switch on the old pitchman's racket of playing a sucker for all he's worth. "Send the letter back and the sucker will send it out again."

WHO profits by the chain letter? Practically nobody. A few people may get a few dollars, for which a few more people are at loss.

The original chain letter was dreamed up by some 10-cent Ponzi, who couldn't have gone very far in high-school algebra. The present scheme of getting $780 or so was dreamed up by some probably well-intentioned patriot, who visualized stimulating the sale of war stamps and picking up a few dollars on the side.

Post Office officials here aren't getting any gray hairs over it yet, but they will if it reaches anything like the proportions it did in the dime-chain letter days of a decade or more back.

If that should come to pass, there will be no alternative but "to make a few examples" by prosecuting under existing laws. It's admitted that under the circumstances, a jury probably wouldn't convict, but it wouldn't be a happy experience.

An official at the Treasury department I mentioned it to, said: "Just tell them for us to keep on buying war stamps but don't give them away in any chain letters."

Hollywood Gossip

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—When the movie lads and lasses began trekking overseas to entertain the fighting men, it was inevitable that there should be movies about the treks.

Two of them are on celluloid now, one a sure hit, the other, well, it'll probably do all right too. This is "Four Jills in a Jeep," cinema account of the adventures of Carole Landis, Kay Francis, Martha Raye and Mitzi Mayfair as pioneers in overseas entertainment.

The ladies play themselves, and Dick Haymes of juke-box renown sings a flock of songs, of which "How Blue the Night" ought to join the hit parade. There's romance for all the gals, John Harvey playing the flier that Miss Landis actually married on the tour, Phil Silvers trailing Martha Raye, Haymes courting Mitzi, and Kay Francis garnering the gentle admiration of an Army doctor. For all of it, and Jimmy Dorsey's band, and "guest appearances" by Betty Grable, Alice Faye and Carmen Miranda, the film really comes off as a routine musical which, unlike its heroines, seems to have no particular destination.

BY CONTRAST, or even by itself, "Follow the Boys" is a wow. If you want to see how the Victory Committee works, this is it. Running two hours, the picture keeps up a generally fast pace. It tells a romance of sorts (George Raft and Vera Zorina) and presents specialty numbers, often with audiences of soldier thousands, by a bookful of "names" and talent: Jeanette MacDonald, Dinah Shore, Sophie Tucker, Ted Lewis, Carmen Amaya, W. C. Fields, Orson Welles, Mariene Dietrich, Donald O'Connor and Peggy Ryan, to name a few, and more bands than I can remember (though I liked Louis Jordan's number best).

As a cavalcade of all Hollywood at war, "Follow the Boys" has scope which "Four Jills" lacks.

THE town is full of players who have made many pictures and yet never seen themselves on the screen. John Alexander is one. He came from the stage's "Arsenic and Old Lace" for the film version, finished two years ago but still unreleased. He since has played in "Mr. Skeffington" and in "Doughgirls" but reports glumly that he still doesn't know how he looks on film.

There are so many delayed releases it sometimes appears that producers have been making movies for their own amusement. Our comment to this effect reminded Jimmy Kern, "Doughgirls" director, of the tale of the producer reporting on his latest preview: "It didn't go," the producer said. "We had a lousy audience, kids crying, terrible. But last night in Louis B. Mayer's projection room it wowed 'em." "Yeah," retorted a skeptic friend, "but how many projection rooms can it play?"

4-H Club Meetings Held Recently

Starbuck — Wanda Johnson, news reporter for the Starbuck-ettes reports that her club met last week at the home of her leader with twelve girls present. Program booklets with attractive covers were made for each club member present. A lesson was given on sewing on buttons. The next meeting will be held April 19.

Wiltzie—A meeting of the Busy Bees 4-H club at Wiltzie was held at the Carlstrom home recently. The program for the summer was planned and discussed. This club meets again April 20.

Home Economics Meetings at Chanders Valley

A meeting for women will be held in Chanders Valley Wednesday afternoon, April 12. The 4-H club recently organized in Chanders Valley will meet after school Wednesday.

Local Leaders to Meet

Ten 4-H clubs have organized or planned to organize thus far this spring. A meeting of 4-H club local leaders will be held in Warren April 18. Plans are not entirely complete for this meeting and will be announced later.

When Neither Too Wet Nor Too Dry, It's Time to Spade

When Slightly Moist Soil Crumbles Easily in Your Hand, It Is Time to Spade.

When all the frost has been thawed out of the soil in the spring, it is time to spade the Victory Garden plot; but first test it to be sure it is neither too wet, nor too dry. The most reliable test is a simple one—call it the mud-pie test. Pick up a handful of soil and pat it between your palms as you used to do in childhood; if it holds together and makes a nice mud-pie, then it is too wet to spade. Keep off soil when it is in this condition, lest you form clods which will prove troublesome all summer. The more clay the soil contains, the more injury it will suffer if spaded when too wet. Yet clay soil should not be worked too dry; in fact, you can seldom spade it then, for it is too hard. There is a point between the two extremes when a handful of soil, patted between the palms, will crumble. It is not dry, but slightly moist, yet not wet enough to hold together in a mud-pie. At this point, even clay can be spaded easily, and will break up without forming clods. When the test indicates that this favorable condition prevails, do not delay spading, otherwise the soil may dry out unduly, and compel you to wait for heavy rains to restore the right degree of moisture.

Mozart Program Is Announced For Philomel Exchange

Philomel Club members are to have the pleasure on Wednesday afternoon of entertaining Mozart members from Jamestown, the occasion being the annual exchange program of the two organizations.

Miss Tirzah Hall will be chair- man of the program to be given by the visitors, beginning at 2:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Mary Robertson Sundell will open the program with a group of three Chopin composi- tions, Noces in E minor and G major and the F Minor Etude.

Miss Doris L. Phillips, soprano, will sing by invitation the recita- tive and aria "Dei Viene non Tar- darsi" from Mozart's "Marriage of Figaro"; "Mi Chiamano Mimì" from Puccini's "La Bohème"; "Ah, Twine No Blossoms" by Gliere and "The Nightingale and the Rose" by Rimsky-Korsakoff. Harold E. Crissey will be at the piano for her accompaniments.

The first movement of the Mac- Dowell Concerto in D minor will be played by Miss Esther Elft to conclude the program, the orches- tral parts at the second piano to be played by Miss Ruth Munson.

Tea following the program will be in charge of Mrs. Freeman O. Peterson and the following hostesses: Mrs. Harriett Wilkins, Mrs. W. E. Yeager, Mrs. W. M. Robertson, Mrs. Anna Wilson, Miss Dorothy Newell, Mrs. Lester Blair and Mrs. N. D. Paterson.

Marilyn Emery In Pleasing Recital

Miss Marilyn Emery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Emery, Franklin street, was heard in a very pleasing piano recital last evening at the studio-home of her teacher, Mrs. John Ekey, Parker street.

Her selections, well chosen and showing careful preparation, inclu- ded works of Bach, Schubert, Dvorak, Grieg and others. Assis- ting her in one number was Miss Violet Merchant.

Offering variety in the evening's program was a group of four vocal selections done by Mrs. Everett Borg, contralto, whose accompani- ments were played by Mrs. Ekey.

To conclude the evening, re- freshments were served during a pleasant social hour.

Mildred Lineman And Archie Hood Wed In Tidouite

Mildred L. Lineman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Lineman, of Tidouite, and Archie Hood, son of Mrs. Francis J. Hood, of Titus- ville, were united in marriage by Rev. Fred Morris at three o'clock Saturday afternoon in the Tid- ouite Methodist church.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white lace with sweetheart neckline and a fingertip veil of tulle. Her bridal bouquet was of calla lilies. As matron of honor, Mrs. Mary E. Stiles of Burlington, N. J., wore a gown of powder blue net trim- med with lace and a sweetheart hat to match. She carried a nosegay of pink carnations. Miss Lineman chose as her bridesmaids Miss Catherine Viander of Youngsville and Miss Phyllis Elmquist of War- ren. They wore gowns of pink and yellow net respectively and match- ing sweetheart hats. They carried nosegays of pink carnations.

Dorman Lineman, brother of the bride, served as Mr. Hood's best man. Ushers were Frank Mellors of Titusville and William Dael- hausen of Tidouite.

Mrs. Lineman, mother of the bride, wore a gown of dusty pink with accessories of navy blue. Mrs. Hood, mother of the groom, wore a gown of pink and black print with matching accessories. Each wore a corsage of gardenias. Mrs. Carl Rosequist presided at the organ and played several selec- tions. For the processional she played the Lohengrin "Bridal Chorus" and for the recessional Mendelssohn's Wedding March from "Midsummer Night's Dream." Preceding the processional Mrs. Francis Plecker, of Eliza- bethtown, N. J., sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

Following the ceremony a re- ception was held in the dining room of the church. Guests attend- ing from Oil City, Warren, Youngs- ville, Irvine, Bradford, Knox, Ship- pensville, Titusville, Cochran and Pittsburgh. Mr. and Mrs. Hood left immediately following the reception for a trip through the south. Upon their return they will make their home on Brooks street, Titusville.

SPORTS of all sorts

Leftist Senator

MICKY HAEFNER IS LITTLE GIANT IN WASHINGTON'S PENNANT PLANS

Phils Are Hustling But Face Big Task Improving Position

By JACK HAND

Wilmington, Del. April 11—(P)—Freddie Fitzsimmons has the Phillies hustling this spring but he faces one of the toughest jobs in baseball in trying to improve on last year's seventh place finish in the National League.

Gone are such regular performers as Merrill May, Babe Dahlgren, Danny Murtaugh, Schoolboy Rowe, St. Johnson and Jack Kraus. A crop of double A and Class A rookies are the only replacements. General Manager Herb Pennock, who took charge of the new organization when owner Bob Carpenter entered the army, and Joe Reardon, director of the farm system, have scoured the country to produce the crop of new names that are popping up in the Phil lineup.

Behind the Blue Jay emblem, there are such young hopefuls as Moon Mullen, Charley Letchus, Ted Cieslak, Bitsy Mott, Charley Schanz and Deacon Donahue.

Jimmy Wasdell returns as the first baseman with either Mullen, who hit 27 2at Seattle, or Letchus, a .258 clouter for Toronto's International League pennant winners, at second. Ray Hamrick, who finished out last season, has supplanted Glen Stewart in the early games as starting shortstop. Cieslak whose experience goes as high as Wilmington in Class B and Mott, a willing lad from Georgia, Florida Class D loop, have been splitting the third base assignment. Ty Tyson's .325 average at Trenton keeps him around as Wasdell's replacement.

The outfield is set with Coaker Triplett in left, Buster Adams in center and Ron Northey in right. Nick Goulsh, a free agent out of industrial baseball, is the fourth man. With the entire first string held over from last year the garden appears to be Fitzsimmons strongest department.

Veteran Big Ten Referee Scores Rules

By BUCKY O'CONNOR

Chicago, April 11—(P)—He didn't exactly say so, but one of these days Nick Kearns, veteran cage official, may decide to picket the National Basketball Committee as "unfair to organized (and unorganized) referees."

Kearns, who has refereed Big Ten games for more than 20 years, was outspoken today in denouncing the committee's recent rule changes allowing a player five instead of four personal fouls in a game and outlawing so-called goal tending by tall boys.

Kearns fumed that the new regulations place too heavy a burden on officials. "In the last few years," he went on, coaches already had doctored the rules so as to put 90 per cent of the burden of the game on officials. Now they've gone ahead and raised it to 99.9 per cent."

Filing a bill of particulars, he added that the five foul rule would encourage teams with a plentitude of players to foul with abandon. In anticipation he warned fellow referees to be prepared for an extremely busy season of whistle tooting, with an accompanying increase in razzerberries from fans.

Chandler, Bonham Back With Yanks

By TED MEIER

New York, April 11—(P)—Spud Chandler and Ernie Bonham, who between them pitched 35 winning games for the world champion New York Yankees last year, will be back with the Bronx Bombers when the baseball season opens a week from today.

The 34-year-old Chandler and the 30-year-old Bonham both had been certified as acceptable for military service. However, neither has been called up and under the latest ruling of Selective Service, restricting the drafting of those older than 26, may be able to play for a short time.

Field and Stream Club Will Meet

The regular meeting of the Warren Field and Stream Club Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the YMCA will be an important one because it will really be the start of the summer activity—including planting the game food, stream improvement and discussing of comparative value of bait for the opening of the trout season.

J. Allen Barrett, of the Pennsylvania Fish Commission, will speak and show moving pictures, promising a program that will be much enjoyed by all sportsmen. Those planning to attend are reminded to be ready to hand in stubs of new memberships sold so that lists may be brought up to date.

Basketballers Will Banquet This Evening

Things are shaping up nicely for the annual YMCA basketball league banquet to be held tonight. Jigs Bonavita will be in the drivers seat acting as toastmaster and will start the proceedings at 6:00 p. m. sharp.

Tickets have been issued to the team captains and all players are urged to contact them and procure them. If it so happens that a player did not do this he is to come to the "Y" at the appointed time regardless.

H. D. Harris, principal of Beaty Junior High School, will be the speaker and will bring a timely topic to the attention of the group.

Ralph H. Wagner, YMCA General Secretary, will say the invocation and the introduction of special guests will be in charge of W. L. Parmlee. The board of directors will be represented by W. Howard Alexander, president of the association.

Members of the National Forge team of Irvine will be the recipients of handsome basketball charms as a reward for their efforts in winning the league championship.

This banquet will officially wind up competitive basketball in the local association for this season.

Zivic Protega Loses Decision To Ruby Garcia

By the Associated Press

Pittsburgh, April 11—(P)—Juste Fontaine, Fritz Zivic's promising protege from Milwaukee, failed to give his army-bound mentor a going away present last night when he lost an eight-round decision to bull-shouldered Ruby Garcia. It was his first loss in his 18 professional fights.

Fontaine's inexperience cost him the fight, although the decision was close. The little Frenchman was not content to stay out of reach and jab his way to a victory, but insisted on mixing with Garcia. The Puerto Rican, a tough fighter and a sharp counter puncher, came out of a seventh round flurry to almost knock Fontaine out, and gain an edge the Milwaukeean could not overcome by a last-round rally.

On the Associated Press scorecard Garcia won four rounds. Fontaine threw, with one even, Garcia weighed 133. Fontaine 131.

Zivic, who goes to the army tomorrow, delivered a short victory before the final bout. "I'm leaving the ring for a bigger fight," he said, "but my heart will always be here."

American Bombers In Giant Attacks On Reich Defenses

U. S. air victories showed the bombers and fighters downed 15 planes while many additional enemy planes were destroyed or damaged on the ground. Three bombers and four fighters were lost in the attack upon four airfields, three repair works and an assembly plant.

(Five American heavy bombers made forced landings in Sweden today and six crewmen parachuted from another United States plane after it apparently had been hit by anti-aircraft fire, the Stockholm Afonblad reported. A German plane believed to be a fighter was shot down in flames and its crew killed near Skovde where Swedish gunners opened fire as it flew at low altitude. Since Easter a total of 15 American bombers have landed in Sweden.)

The Berlin radio said battles had broken out over the Brunswick and Hannover areas as Nazi fighters intercepted large U. S. formations thrusting deep into the Reich with strong fighter escorts. The broadcast said that violent aerial combats also were being fought over the Baltic area.

The size of the attacking American formations was indicated by reports from the British south-east coast. They said the roar of motors during the early morning hours was deafening as the big outboard bombers thundered overhead in an unbroken procession for 45 minutes.

Local Hospital Is Represented At Convention

Miss Elizabeth Lautermilch, director, is representing Warren General Hospital in the three-day sessions of the second war conference of the Hospital Association of Pennsylvania, which opened today in the William Penn Hotel in Pittsburgh.

The gathering includes nearly 300 hospitals in Pennsylvania and its principal aim is to outline, consider and seek to find solutions to the serious problems hospitals are facing because of the war: Shortages of drugs and equipment, heavy census of civilian patients, rationing, departure of doctors and nurses, manpower shortages, etc.

It is also for the purpose of having its member-representatives become fully informed concerning regulations and steps the hospitals are taking to meet this situation.

Arraigned in Air-Engine Court Martial

Charged with neglect of duty and conspiracy to deliver faulty aircraft engines to the U. S. government are, left to right, Lieut.-Col. F. C. Grulich, Maj. Walter A. Ryan, both of Detroit, and Maj. William Bruckmann of Cincinnati, defendants in public court martial held in connection with the Wright Aeronautical Corp.

Chapter 3

THAT night there was little sleep for Farrel. Despite the ventilation, the air in the cellar felt warm and close. His mind was too active for sleep. As the hours wore on he resolved he must make an attempt to get away as soon as possible. Restless, he got off the couch to test the strength of his ankle without using a cane. Yes, in a day or two he would be able to walk unaided. At length, exhausted, he lay down and sank into troubled slumber.

He awoke to find Gabord setting down his breakfast tray on the little table beside the shaded lamp.

How was M'sieu this morning? He trusted he had slept well. M'sieu must drink his coffee while it was hot.

Gilbert eyed him keenly as he sat up to take the cup of coffee held out to him.

"Thank you, Gabord. Is everything well with Dussault and Mamselle Adrienne?" He hesitated before he pronounced the name uppermost in his thoughts.

"Yes M'sieu, they are both well. Perhaps M'sieu would like to read one of our leaflets—the last one issued. I shall return later for the tray."

He laid a printed sheet beside the tray, and before Johnny could reply or question him further, he had turned and left.

Relieved that Adrienne was in no immediate danger, yet hurt and mystified at her avoidance of him, he re-lived the moment when his lips had rested on hers and she had responded to his kiss. Could it be that in some way he had hurt or offended her?

Later when he had finished his breakfast, he gave his attention to the leaflet.

ADRIENNE, having descended the secret stair case, turned as was her custom to take Johnny's supper tray from the sure-footed Gabord, who would have found it possible to make the descent with the tray in the dark if necessity demanded. Carrying the tray, she approached Johnny, who was sitting at the table near his couch playing solitaire. As she came into view inside the screen, he looked up smiling, his eyes alight.

"Ah," he exclaimed rising to place the tray for her. "Observe the progress the patient has made since the nurse has been away neglecting him. I was beginning to think you would never come to see me again—that in some way I'd offended you. That wasn't the case, was it, Adrienne?"

Her color rose a little.

"How could you think that? It was because other things had to be attended to," she replied.

"Things that were difficult and not agreeable, certainly."

Suddenly he rose to his feet and pulled her to him almost roughly.

"Adrien, you mustn't keep things from me. I love you. Don't we love each other?"

Before she could answer he pressed his lips to hers and kissed her hard.

"Yes," she faltered breathlessly, "but, Johnny, there is work I must do."

As she looked up at him there was a flash in his eyes like lightning, and he said in a low voice:

"Hold on, I don't understand. There are American words I don't know, Johnny."

He laughed, still keeping his arm about her. At that instant the sound of a footstep broke the silence of the cellar.

"It is Raoul," she said, dropping her voice. "Let me go, Johnny."

"Yes, for now," he retorted grimly, resuming his seat. "But you must tell me about that work later. There must be no secrets between us, remember."

SHE gave a little light laugh. Something hit her inwardly as the image rose before her of Kapitän Von Egert, arrogant and austere, with his audacious stare and the monocle in his eye.

"Now take your omelet, Johnny. It is good. No one can equal Alphonse for omelette au champagne. Gabord will return for the tray. Don't stir."

He looked back at her with a smile.

In passing she saw that Raoul was already at work at the printing press. He looked up with a coldness in his glance that she was quick to feel.

"Good evening, Raoul. You are earlier than usual."

"You realize I love you, Adrienne?"

He drew her towards him again and held her close.

"You love me, Adrienne?"

"Yes," she breathed, "Could I help it?"

"Would you risk being a fier's wife, darling? Will you marry me?"

"Yes, if it were possible, my dear one. But in this country in its present terrible state—how could such a thing be possible?"

"We must find a way, sweetheart," he said, eagerly. "Adrienne, let's make a break for freedom together—you and I. We'll get past the Nazis. I've beat them to it many a time in the air—why not on land as well?"

"You don't understand, but it is impossible for me to leave Paris yet. But my uncle and I have made a plan for your escape—as soon as your ankle is well enough for you to travel."

"You're trying to make an invalid of me," he said, looking up at her, smiling, as she poured his coffee and put a plate of brooches with apricot preserve before him. "As a matter of fact, my ankle's nearly well. I must get away from here, Adrienne. While I'm here I am a burden and danger to you all."

"That cannot be helped," she declared. "We are willing to take the risk to help you."

She went on to explain that illegal passes and permits to travel could be obtained through French and foreign collaborationists who were willing to make bargains with German officers if the price were high enough. But the risk was great in getting past the watchful eyes of German sentries.

"That hide and seek game wouldn't be so funny for me with my game ankle," he interposed with a grin.

"No, our plan will take you towards the coast, but that is all I can say just now."

DO you know I love you all the more for your courage," he said, drawing her down to him and holding her face between his hands. "But don't expect me to entice about a plan that doesn't include you, honey. Of what value would my life be if anything happens to you?"

Grass Fire Threatened Buildings

Youngsville, April 10—A grass fire on the property of E. J. Schumaker of East Main street, reached such proportions late Friday afternoon that the local volunteer fire company was called out. The fire started from a bonfire in the yard which set the grass on fire and when the company arrived with the fire truck the fire was so close that the garage was in danger. The fire was out in about half an hour.

SERVICES OF HOLY WEEK

There was a very good attendance Friday at the union three hour service held in the United Brethren church. A very impressive and beautiful service was carried in seven periods each arranged around some word from the cross. In each of these periods there was Scripture reading, prayer, meditation, hymns and a message by one of the following pastors, Rev. Dwight Jack, Rev. Mr. Schlick, Rev. Samuel Stimer, Rev. Carl Perrin, Rev. Mr. Donaldson and Rev. Charles McIntyre.

Solo numbers were given by Mrs. Dwight Jack and Rev. Charles McIntyre.

The Union Communion Service in the Free Methodist church was also well attended. The district superintendent of the Free Methodist church assisted by the local pastors conducted the communion service. A young ladies trio sang a beautiful hymn.

ORANGE CIRCLE

Mrs. J. G. Kellerman was hostess Wednesday afternoon to the Orange Circle. A reading concerning the way U. S. Service men were getting acquainted with foreign missionaries in many lands and learning to appreciate the work of these missionaries which are giving home like surrounding to any American boy far from his own home.

Games and a tureen luncheon were featured.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN

Youngsville schools closed on Thursday and are opening Tuesday April 11th giving pupils and teachers a short Easter vacation.

Miss Elizabeth Husted who has spent the past seven months in Atlanta, Ga., is an Easter weekend guest of her parents. Her visit came as a surprise and was made especially at this time as her brothers Corporal Warren Husted from Camp Campbell, Ky., and Pvt. H. Husted from Texas were both home on furloughs.

Miss Helen Zahniser is spending her Easter vacation with friends in New York City.

James C. Fleming, Seaman 2/c has completed his "Boot Training" at Great Lakes, Ill., and is now at the Naval Training Station at Norfolk, Va. He recently spent a fourteen day furlough with his parents Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Fleming.

A card from Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Pentecost of Cleveland, summer residents of Youngsville tell of a pleasant vacation in St. Petersburg, Fla. They are looking forward to meeting friends in Youngsville soon.

About seventy-five dogs in Youngsville have been inoculated against rabies.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Hendrickson have received word that their son Pvt. Warren Hendrickson is now located at Camp Blanning, Fla.

Mrs. Lorraine Brooks has returned from Atlantic City, where she spent a short time with her husband. She reported a pleasant time.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Swanson enjoyed as recent guests Miss Kay Lawrence of Cleveland.

Miss Helen Spencer is convalescing at the Warren Hospital following an appendicitis operation Tuesday.

Red Cross Alleviates Wants Of Men in Hun Prison Camps

Additional confirmation of the Red Cross War Fund slogan "the Red Cross is at his side" is seen in the following excerpts from messages just received by Mr. and Mrs. Alva Seymour, 127 Russell street, from their son, Sgt. Harold Seymour, German prisoner of war:

"December 26—Christmas is over for another year and even as a prisoner of war I can truthfully say it was a good one. All of the barracks, as well as the church and theatre, are decorated with trimmed tree, stars, streamers, etc. Yesterday we had a church service and, in the evening, a show which was real good.

"Last Friday all of us received a Christmas box from the Red Cross. In it were cigarettes, candy, peanut butter, jam, two handkerchiefs, meat and a fruit cake. It sure was a swell package. This was in addition to our regular weekly Red Cross food package.

"I am fine and hope you are the same. You are always in our prayers here. Regards to everyone. Love, Harold."

Another message, written February 20 and received yesterday, told of his having received six letters; also a package sent in November. His most recent activities had included having a tooth filled by a Russian dentist and attendance at a movie, "Bringing Up Baby." In this message Sgt. Seymour again tells of Red Cross work, he having received a new field jacket and the Red Cross having provided a larger stage for the camp theatre. Because letters are limited and the majority of these go to the family, he asks that friends "keep the letters coming" and not to worry about him.

Yes, you'll have more pleasure—smoking PHILIP MORRIS!

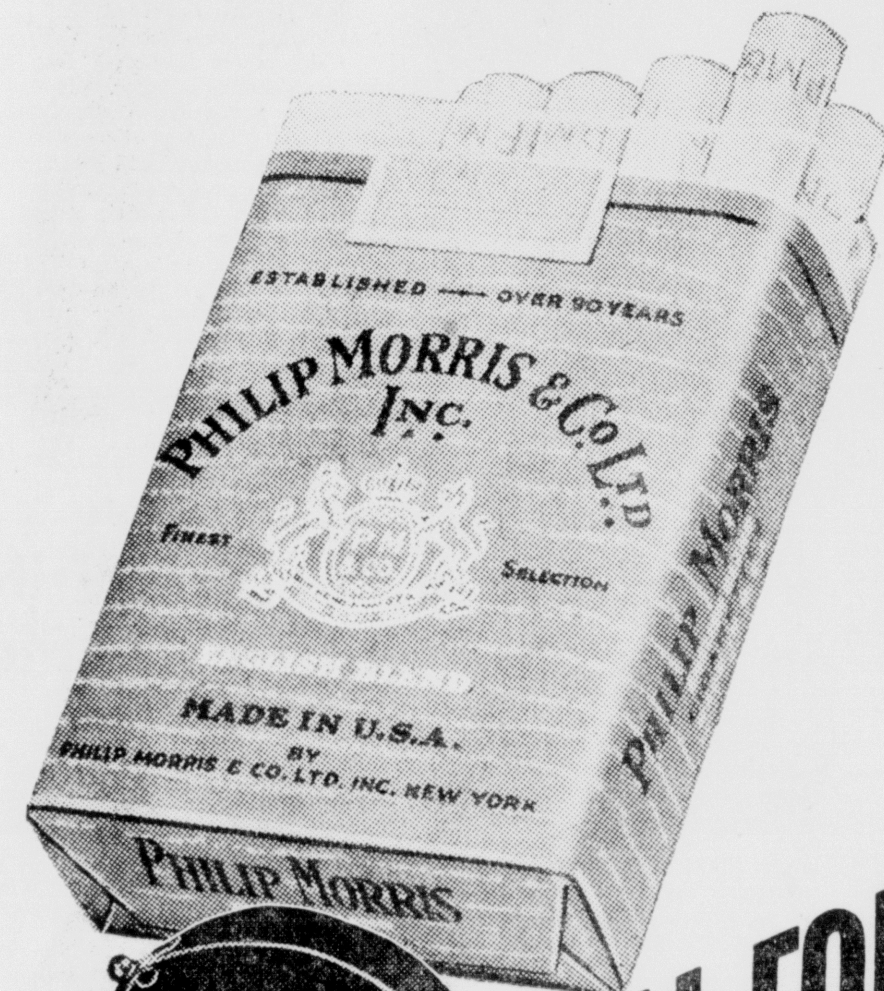

First, in laboratory research, PHILIP MORRIS were proved definitely and measurably less irritating.

But that's not all! In addition, the findings of a group of distinguished doctors prove that:

WHEN SMOKERS CHANGED TO PHILIP MORRIS, SUBSTANTIALLY EVERY CASE OF IRRITATION OF THE NOSE OR THROAT—DUE TO SMOKING—CLEARED UP COMPLETELY OR DEFINITELY IMPROVED!

Full reports of these findings appeared in leading medical journals.

Now—while no curative effects are claimed for PHILIP MORRIS—this evidence does prove this cigarette less irritating...safer...for the nose and throat!
